Friendly atmosphere

Workers, city confer

An amiable atmosphere prevailed Thursday afternoon when city street and alley, sanitation, sewer and cemetery workers met in the Municipal Building with Mayor Allen Hawkins and five councilmen to discuss a new salary schedule first proposed a month and a half ago.

The city workers threatened twice last July 16 to walk off their jobs because of salary complaints, but this action was averted by a subsequent $80 across-the-board monthly pay raise for all city employes and a promise by former Mayor Carl Franklin to look into the matter.

Franklin and First Ward Republican Jack Kniest did not attend the meeting Thursday. Fourth Ward Democrat David Curry, who did attend the session, termed the discussions between the two parties "pretty cut and dried" at this stage. No official action was taken at the meeting.

"It was just a matter of someone making a move and a move was made," Curry said. Nothing definite, he said, was decided at the meeting.

Street superintendent Vernon Ditton, one of the negotiators for the workers, said a salary and benefit schedule will be drawn up by the workers and presented to the council later for official action. The major difference between the salary proposal to be drawn up and a previous one arrived at aside from adjustments for the $80 monthly increase - will be generally lower salary increase demands and a reclassification of job titles, Ditton said.

The previous salary proposal listed 10 job categories, while the new one will increase that number by at least three to account for more specific job classifications. Ditton, who will be on vacation for about 10 days, said the new proposal should be complete in about two weeks.

The workers originally asked for pay increases that included $127 per month for laborers, $134 per month for heavy equipment operators, $99 per month for city mechanics and $63 per month for sewage plant operators.

The workers also requested three weeks vacation after 10 years service and four weeks after 15 years. They currently receive two weeks' vacation after 15 years. A request to raise paid sick days for employes from one day per month to 11/4 per month was also made.

Kelley writes bureau check

WASHINGTON (AP) - FBI Director Clarence Kelley, his job possibly in jeopardy because some government materials and labor were used two years ago to build a pair of drapery valances for his apartment, has written the bureau a check for $335. high was 90.

The payment covers the cost of constructing the plywood frames for the tops of windows, additional carpentry work to correct errors in the original Saturday at 6:44 a.m. measurements and four trips to Kelley's apartment in a nearby Maryland suburb.

The valances, built soon after Kelley took over at the bureau, and gifts Kelley has accepted from senior FBI officials have become issues in a Justice Department probe of financial improprieties and other abuses of power within the Word of Kelley's payment came Thursday as he met with Atty. Gen. Edward Levi, but neither official would disclose what was discussed in their hour-long meeting.

SFCC board lowers tax levy six cents

The State Fair Community College Board of Trustees Thursday night unanimously approved a 6-cent reduction in its tax levy for the fiscal year which SFCC President Fred Davis said the revision was required by state law due to last spring's upward reassessment of property values in Pettis County. Because the reassessment increased property values by more than 10 per cent, the board was required to lower the levy from last year's 38 cents per $100 valuation to 34 cents. The board had voted last April to tentatively raise the tax levy to 40 cents per $100 per assessed valuation, the maximum allowable without a vote.

Davis said the 6-cent reduction would put the college within about 14 per cent, or $5,000 to $6,000, of last year's tax revenues, about $510,000 this year. The 6-cent difference in tax levies represents about $94,000 in tax revenue for the college, Davis said.

The college lowered its levy by 2 cents last year, from 40 cents to 38 cents, following a more than 10 per cent increase in property values in Benton

In other business, Davis announced that the SFCC respiratory therapy technician program has received accreditation by the Joint Committee for Respiratory Therapy Education. The program, which teaches students how to administer oxygen as well as the support of the respiratory system, is a rarity in the state, and is "about the only program in the state" that is accredited, Cooperative agreements which give students "on-the-job training" in respiratory therapy have been reached with Bothwell Hospital here, Golden Valley Hospital in Clinton and Fitzgibbon Memorial Hospital in Marshall.

Davis also told the board of a "longshot" possibility for the long sought-after funding of an SFCC vocational-technical building. Under the Public Works Act of 1976, which was upheld by Congress despite a veto by President Ford, Missouri could receive anywhere from $10 to $25 million. Davis said $1.3 to $1.4 million could be appropriated to SFCC to cover 100 per cent of the building's cost.

Jobless rate hits high mark for year

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's unemployment rate increased for the third month in a row in August, edging up from 7.8 to 7.9 per cent, the highest level so far this year, the government

At the same time, the Labor Department said the increase in the number of Americans with jobs slowed last month after sizeable gains earlier this year. Employment rose by 74,000 in August to 88 million out of a work force of 95.5 million, after a gain of 400,000 in

There were some bright spots in the job picture, including a 240,000 increase in non-farm employment and improvement in the unemployment rate for adult men, usually the family bread-winner.

And the unemployment rate climbed at a slower pace than in June and July. After gradually falling since the spring of 1975, joblessness jumped a half a percentage point in June and July, followed by the one-tenth of a per cent hike in August.

In August, the number of people without work increased by about 80,000 to 7.5 million, the largest since 7.8 million couldn't find work last December.

The increase in joblessness has thrust unemployment onto center stage as a key issue in this fall's presidential election campaign.

The increases have raised new fears among economists over the path of the economic recovery, and could create serious political problems for President Ford, who in campaigning for election, has adopted moderate economic policies to avoid a resurgence in inflation.

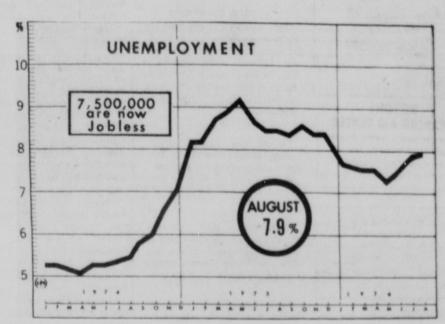

The Democrats and their presidential nominee, Jimmy Carter, have made jobs their No. 1 issue and are calling for new measures to reduce unemployment.

In addition, AFL-CIO President George Meany is blasting the Ford administration on the issue. In his Labor Day message, Meany said that "trueunemployment — counting those perons who have given up looking for work or have accepted parttime work -- is 10.3 per cent.

Since reaching its recession low in March, 1975, employment has grown by 3.9 million, or an average monthly increase over the 17-month span of nearly

The unemployment rate is based on a nationwide survey of some 47,000 households. A more accurate but less extensive survey is made of the business establishments, which showed in August that non-farm payrolls were up by 240,000 to 79.4 million.

The government said employment increases occurred in about 60 per cent of 172 private non-farm industries

State fares better than rest of nation

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) Missouri's unemployment rate dropped to its lowest level in 22 months during August while tax revenues for the state continued to rise during the past two months, reflecting the improving economy of the state.

Preliminary figures released by the state Divison of Employment Security on Thursday showed the jobless rate at 4.7 per cent for August, down from 5.4 per cent the month before

"Our most recent unemployment figures provide great encouragement about our present situation and even greater hope for the future of Missouri's economy," Gov. Christopher S. Bond said in announcing the statistics.

Less than 98,000 persons were out of work in August, the preliminary figures showed, compared to 112,000 in July. The division will adjust both the August and July figures later this month.

"In just 12 months since August 1975," Bond said, "almost 40,000 people have left the unemployed ranks in our state."

At about the same time Bond was citing the improvied employment picture in the state, state Treasurer James Spainhower reported that tax revenues have continued to rise.

Tax receipts for August and July this year, the first two months of the state's budget year, rose 12.7 per cent above receipts for the same two months in 1975. That growth was also higher than the 11.4 per cent growth rate recorded for the entire 12-month budget year between July 1975 and this June.

Income tax receipts showed the largest individual rise, jumping 17.6 per cent over the same two-month period in 1975. That hike, above the 12.4 per cent rise for the entire last budget year, reflected the increasing employment in the state as more people resumed receiving pay checks and paying income taxes.

The sales tax, the state's largest revenue producer, was up 12.5 per cent for the two months compared to the 10.4 per cent rise recorded in the last budget year, reflecting increased purchasing by Missourians.

Spainhower said the improving economic picture would enable state officials to create a cash reserve fund that would provide a cushion should the state run into another tight financial situation like it faced last winter.

Dole: GOP to pursue labor vote

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) - Sen. Bob Dole said today that just because he criticizes AFL-CIO President George Meany's close ties to Democrats doesn't mean Republicans are writing off the rankand-file labor vote in this presidential

"We're never going to get the support of labor leaders; they're all Democrats," Dole said. "But that doesn't mean we're writing off the labor vote. Those people aren't going to take orders from Washington."

Dole's comments during his appearance at a breakfast rally for 2nd District GOP congressional candidate Ross Freeman may have been as a result of concern expressed by some Republicans that Dole's sometimes harsh attacks on Meany may unnecessarily be alienating the labor vote.

President Ford will at any time try to get along with labor leaders, business leaders and farm leaders," Dole told reporters after addressing an estimated 1,000 persons who jammed a hotel ballroom to see the Republican vice presidential nominee.

A reporter asked Dole what the difference was between Meany's influence on President Ford's past decisions on grain embargoes and Meany's alleged influence on Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter.

'There is a great deal of difference.'

'Meany won't take a look at the Republican Party. He doesn't want to see our platform. He thinks we're all Neanderthal conservatives.

Dole said he and President Ford now are "in agreement" on a grain embargo policy, which basically is that they oppose them except in cases of national 'emergency.'' He said some Republicans are critical of that position. but said there must be "some escape" from a hard position of no embargoes whatsoever.

Priest's collar called prejudicial

NEW YORK (AP) — A "prophylactic measure," the state called it, to keep the courtroom atmosphere pure. But the Rev. Vincent La Rocca says it reflects a tendency in American public affairs to "erase every sign of religion."

"It's part of a complete secularizing of our institutional life," says the scrappy priest-criminal lawyer.

At issue is an order upheld in New York courts forbidding him from earing his clerical collar while defending an indigent client on the ground that it might cause bias among the jurors.

"It's dehumanizing to a certain extent, taking away from me my identity," he says. "Lawyers wear yarmulkes, Masonic rings, Brooks Brothers suits, cloaks, beards and maybe a Moslem fez. But a priest's collar is called prejudicial. There's not one fact to prove it.'

He noted that a sign on court room walls says "In God we trust," yet a clerical collar is ruled out of bounds.

On appeal, state Supreme Court Judge Guy Mangano had overruled the ban, saying clerical collars or skull caps had become common in societv. tempered by clergy involvement in the "open citadels of public life."

But the appellate division, by a split decision, overruled that decision, holding that clergy attire "would undoubtedly affect the witnesses," although conceding that some distinctions of dress were beyond the court's powers, such as a lawyer's suit style, or whether he wore a bow tie or four-in-

Libertarian candidate gains place on ballot

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) - A Libertarian Party candidate for the state legislature has gained a spot on the Nov. 2 general election ballot, according to Secretary of State James Kirkpatrick.

Kirkpatrick announced Thursday that A. L. Haenni of Grover had submitted the necessary signatures to gain ballot status in his attempt to win the 92nd district race for the House of Representatives. Haenni secured 262 valid

Death Notices

William A. Wellman

COLUMBIA - William A. Wellman, 56, Dayton, Ohio, died Thursday morning at the Harry S. Truman Memorial Veterans Hospital here.

He was born Aug. 2, 1920, in LaMonte, son of the late Glenn M. and Lettie Crawford Wellman.

He was a graduate of LaMonte High School and Central Missouri State University, and was a member of the LaMonte Christian Church, the Royal Arch Masons and the Knights Templar of Dayton, Ohio. He was a veteran of World War II.

He retired in February, 1976, after 30 years service with Mounds Laboratory of Monsanto Chemical Research Co. in Dayton, Ohio.

He is survived by a brother, Frank E. Wellman, Columbia, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Ricky, Lubbock, Tex.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the Moore Funeral Home, LaMonte, with the Rev. Jerrie Jones officiating.

Burial will be in LaMonte Cemetery. The family will receive friends from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday at the funeral home.

Viking 2 awaiting last order

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Awaiting only the final order from earth, the Viking 2 lander was ready to cast off from its mother ship today and attempt America's second touchdown on Mars.

After a meeting of the Viking command team, the "go" command was scheduled to be radioed to the spacecraft. That command will direct the two-piece spacecraft to split apart, the lander beginning its 31/2-hour descent to the surface while the Viking 2 body remains in orbit around Mars

The gray, three-legged lander, loaded with life-detecting instruments, was scheduled to land at 6:58 p.m. EDT on a northern plain called Utopia.

A check of the automated lander Thursday found everything in readiness. Mission Director Tom Young declared the craft to be "in very good shape."

The only concern, he said, was a sign that the lander may overheat after landing. It is summer in Utopia. Young said a plan had been drawn up to turn off some equipment and reschedule experiments to reduce the inside heat.

Sedalian is named committeewoman for two-year term

WARRENSBURG - Mrs. Ruth Lindsey, 418 East Seventh, was elected to a two-year term as a state Democratic committeewoman at the Fourth Congressional District Democrats meeting held here Tuesday.

She succeeds Mrs. Alice Fairfax as a state Democratic committeewoman from Pettis County. Other committeewomen elected were Martha McGee, Jackson County, and Florence Wilson, Vernon County

State committeemen re-elected were Bob Street, Jackson County, and Mike Keith, Henry County. Elected for the first time was Leland Culp, Johnson County. Fourth district officers elected were: Bernice Ross, Johnson County, chairman; Steve Collier, Bates County, vice chairman; Jerri Collins, Cass County, secretary; and Fred Mackey, Hickory County, treasurer.

Youth faces charge of stealing radio

Dale Wayne Rozier, 17, 1704 South Engineer, was arraigned in Magistrate Court Friday morning on a felony charge of receiving stolen property. However, the charge was amended later in the morning and he was re-arraigned on a felony charge of stealing property valued at more than $50.

The charge against Rozier alleges he took a CB radio from a car owned by Jim L. Fairfax, who lives in the 300 block of East Third, while the car was parked at 16th and Grand on June 16.

Prosecuting Attorney Gary Fleming said the youth changed his story about the incident and admitted later Friday morning that he had taken the radio, which was recovered by authorities.

Rozier was freed after posting $2,500 bond, pending his appearance in Magistrate Court on Sept. 23 for a preliminary hearing.

Carter sons say they've tried pot

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - Rosalynn Carter says her three sons have told her they have tried marijuana, but she says their behavior does not worry her because they are honest about it.

"The only time I worry about my children doing something like smoking marijuana, is if I thought they were slipping around and doing it and not letting me know about it," the wife of Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter said in an interview in

"That's the kind of relationship I hope I never have with my children, and I don't feel I've ever had that. They've smoked marijuana — they told me they did."

Mrs. Carter's assistant press secretary said the candidate's wife "feels marijuana should be decriminalized, but not legalized.

Carter said in a February 1976 questionnaire printed in the New Hampshire Times, "I favor a modified form of marijuana decriminalization along the lines of the Oregon law which has civil penalties for small amounts of possession. I feel that this legislation should be left up to the individal states

The three Carter sons are Jack, 29; Chip, 26; and Jeff, 24. All are married. The Carters' daughter, Amy, is 8.

Mrs. Carter said she hopes that "I have as close a relationship with Amy as I have with the boys."

In 1974, Betty Ford, wife of the President who is Carter's chief opponent in the November election, also said her children probably had tried marijuana.

'Children try everything, don't they? But they

Mrs. Carter, also a native of Plains, married Carter when she was 19 and he was a 22-year-old Naval Academy graduate.

Like her husband, the 49-year-old Mrs. Carter plans 14- to 16-hour days during the campaign.

The Carters' relationship has always been a true partnership, she said. "We've always done everything together. We've always discussed issues. We just developed a mutual respect for each other."

A quiet, shy woman, she says she has overcome her hesitancy about campaigning and now "I don't have any problems about meeting people. I really enjoy it. When I first started campaigning, when Jimmy ran for governor, it was really hard for me. Almost every day I would think I just couldn't do it.'

But she finally learned, she said, that "I did not have to know everything and I don't have to be perfect. I don't have to look exactly right all the

Ford to open road campaign Sept. 12 in Ann Arbor, Mich.

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford will formally open his fall campaign road show the week of Sept. 12 in Ann Arbor, Mich., his spokesman said today.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said he had no specific date for the trip but that the President probably would speak at his alma mater, the University of Michigan. Nessen would not say firmly that the university would be the site and declined to disclose the subject of the speech. He said it would be appropriate to the setting, but would not elaborate.

Ford has listed education as one of seven major issues he intends to discuss during the fall campaign.

In effect, the Ann Arbor trip will be the kickoff of Ford's campaign between now and the November election — but Nessen would not fully accept that interpretation.

"You could say the campaign began on July 1, 1975, when he announced his candidacy," Nessen told reporters.

The President's new campaign chairman, James A. Baker III, said earlier that Ford plans to stay close to the White House during most of this month, limiting his campaign travel to a series of relatively brief trips.

Baker said there are no plans for extensive travel or extended presidential vote-hunting trips during the first month of the campaign against Democrat Jimmy Carter.

Carter is formally launching his presidential campaign between now and November with a speech at Warm Springs, Ga., and Labor Day appearances at Darlington, S.C.; Norfolk, Va.; and Newark, N.J.

Nessen, in response to a question, indicated Ford will average about one campaign speech a week this month.

ing this month than during the presidenthe man he defeated for the Republican tial primary elections.

He said the President's travels will increase later in the campaign, but that even then, his managers will seek to avoid long, wearying, multiple-speech

The Ford plan clearly is intended to emphasize his incumbency and use the presidential stage.

Furthermore, Ford's advisers believe he is at his best when his itinerary is limited and his speeches don't come in bunches. They point to his speech accepting the Republican presidential nomination as the kind of campaign performance he can give when he has time to prepare and polish an address.

Carter has tentative plans to cover nearly 20 cities during his first five-day campaign week. It is to take him north to Connecticut, west to Chicago and south to Hollywood, Fla., with appearances in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Ohio in

Martin succeeded Keeler on Jan. 1, 1973.

Each was charged with conspiray to defraud the government in reporting and paying corporate income taxes.

In a statement from his office, Martin said the charges were unfounded. "The case will be vigorously defended and I am confident that there will be complete vindication," Martin said.

Neither Keeler nor Learned were not immediately available for comment. The indictment said that as part of the alleged conspiracy, Phillips used "international couriers, code names, misleading entries, and false invoices and billings which would conceal from the Internal Revenue Service the true nature of the company's income and expenses.'

This, the indictment said, prevented the IRS "from making a complete and accurate audit of the company's books and records for income tax purposes."

There was no estimate of the amount of taxes the company allegedly evaded during the eight-year period.

Besides the conspiracy count, Martin was charged with three counts of assisting in the preparation of false tax returns for 1969 through 1971.

Davis stressed, however that many areas of the state, especially the major metropolitan centers, would be competing strongly for the money. "There'll be a lot of fingers in the pie," he said.

City Economic Development Director Jim Hamm is currently in Denver, Colo., Davis said, attending a Municipal League conference concerning the federal act.

The community college has tried five times unsuccessfully to raise money through local tax levy increases or bond issue proposals to fund the proposed vocational-technical building.

Partly in consideration of that fact, Davis announced his intention of forming a 12- to 15-member citizens advisory group. The group would contain a "cross-section" of persons from various economic, social and vocational backgrounds within the junior college district, he said, and would advise the board on matters concerning the "physical needs of the college."

Don't use old nytroglycerine

fects do nitroglycerine tablets medicine dissolved under the tongue have on people with heart trouble? It seems to bring relief. I would like to know how this is brought about and how much is it safe to take?

Dear Reader — The principle use of nitroglycerine tablets under the tongue is to relieve transitory chest pain from heart disease. The tablets lose their effectiveness quickly if not stored properly. They should be kept in a tightly sealed glass bottle from your pharmacist. A plastic container will not do. When the bottle is opened, take out a few for your needs and keep the rest in a tightly closed bottle inside the refrigerator." A fresh workable tablet should produce a distinct burning sensation under the tongue. Never use tablets that have been removed from the bottle for longer than a week.

Nitroglycerine causes muscle fibers to relax, mostly the type of muscle we call smooth muscle. Those are the involuntary muscles that are in the walls of the blood vessels and also in the disgestive tube.

As the tiny smooth muscles in the veins relax, the veins expand and trap a larger amount of blood. There is less blood returned to the heart from the veins. The heart doesn't pump as much blood as before and the heart muscle works less.

The heart pain is caused by the heart muscle working too hard in comparison to the amount of circulation it is receiving. When the heart work is decreased the pain goes away. You are right. It

Dear Dr. Lamb - What ef- works and is effective

Nitroglycerine also has other effects - some minor decrease in tone of the large arteries, and it even affects the mineral migrations, particularly potassium, in the cells of the heart muscle during an attack of heart pain. It will also reverse the changes in the electrocardiogram that are associated with some attacks of heart pain.

Sometimes the effects of nitroglycerine can mislead the doctor. The emphasis is on its role in relieving heart pain. It will also relieve pain from esophageal muscle spasm. Since esophageal spasm causes chest pain similar to heart pain it is easy to fall into the trap of thinking the relief of pain proves it was heart pain when in fact that may not be the case.

Occasionally nitroglycerine can cause a major drop in blood pressure. This can be an adverse reaction at the onset of a heart attack. For this reason nitroglycerine should only be used by the patient to relieve short recurrent anginal pains or to prevent them. I do not recommend that a patient take them when they have chest pain for the first time in months or the chest pain lasts more than seven or eight minutes. Take only one. Too often new or different or prolonged pain is a full blown heart attack and not just angina. The thing to do is call your doctor, not try to treat yourself.

Overriding debate issue: joblessness vs. inflation

question of just how low we can push unemployment before producing an unacceptable rate of inflation is becoming one of the overriding issues of the debate between Democrats and Republicans.

Both agree that there is a limit. Both agree that there comes a point beyond which the only workers remaining are those of low producitivity. and the only available plant capacity is of the same marginal quality.

Nobody seems able to demonstrate at what point the inflationary line is crossed. Four per cent? Six per cent? The answer, so important in terms of prices and jobs, is debatable, and probably will remain so in view of the current poor state of our knowledge.

Not only is there considerable question about the real rate of unemployment some say the statistics overstate the case, some maintain it understates - but there is uncertainty also about the level of available plant Pierre Rinfret.

Viking 2 awaiting last order

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Awaiting only the final order from earth, the Viking 2 lander was ready to cast off from its mother ship today and attempt America's second touchdown on Mars.

After a meeting of the Viking command team, the "go" command was scheduled to be radioed to the spacecraft. That command will direct the two-piece spacecraft to split apart, the lander beginning its 31/2-hour descent to the surface while the Viking 2 body remains in orbit around Mars.

The gray, three-legged lander, loaded with life-detecting instruments, was scheduled to land at 6:58 p.m. EDT on a northern plain called Utopia

A check of the automated lander Thursday found everything in readiness. Mission Director Tom Young declared the craft to be "in very good shape."

The only concern, he said, was a sign that the lander may overheat after landing. It is summer in Utopia. Young said a plan had been drawn up to turn off some equipment and reschedule experiments to reduce the inside heat.

Sedalian is named committeewoman for two-year term

WARRENSBURG - Mrs. Ruth Lindsey, 418 East Seventh, was elected to a two-year term as a state Democratic committeewoman at the Fourth Congressional District Democrats meeting held here Tuesday

She succeeds Mrs. Alice Fairfax as a state Democratic committeewoman from Pettis County. Other committeewomen elected were Martha McGee, Jackson County, and Florence Wilson, Vernon County.

State committeemen re-elected were Bob Street, Jackson County, and Mike Keith, Henry County. Elected for the first time was Leland Culp, Johnson County. Fourth district officers elected were: Bernice Ross, Johnson County, chairman; Steve Collier, Bates County, vice chairman; Jerri Collins, Cass County, secretary; and Fred Mackey, Hickory County, treasurer.

Youth faces charge of stealing radio

Dale Wayne Rozier, 17, 1704 South Engineer, was arraigned in Magistrate Court Friday morning on a felony charge of receiving stolen property. However, the charge was amended later in the morning and he was re-arraigned on a felony charge of stealing property valued at more than $50.

The charge against Rozier alleges he took a CB radio from a car owned by Jim L. Fairfax, who lives in the 300 block of East Third, while the car was parked at 16th and Grand on June 16.

Prosecuting Attorney Gary Fleming said the youth changed his story about the incident and admitted later Friday morning that he had taken the radio, which was recovered by authorities.

Rozier was freed after posting $2,500 bond, pending his appearance in Magistrate Court on Sept. 23 for a preliminary hearing.

Carter sons say they've tried pot

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) - Rosalynn Carter says her three sons have told her they have tried marijuana, but she says their behavior does not worry her because they are honest about it.

"The only time I worry about my children doing something like smoking marijuana, is if I thought they were slipping around and doing it and not letting me know about it," the wife of Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter said in an interview in

"That's the kind of relationship I hope I never have with my children, and I don't feel I've ever had that. They've smoked marijuana — they told me they did."

Mrs. Carter's assistant press secretary said the candidate's wife "feels marijuana should be decriminalized, but not legalized."

Carter said in a February 1976 questionnaire printed in the New Hampshire Times, "I favor a modified form of marijuana decriminalization along the lines of the Oregon law which has civil penalties for small amounts of possession. I feel that this legislation should be left up to the individal states

The three Carter sons are Jack, 29; Chip, 26; and Jeff, 24. All are married. The Carters' daughter,

Mrs. Carter said she hopes that "I have as close a relationship with Amy as I have with the boys."

In 1974, Betty Ford, wife of the President who is Carter's chief opponent in the November election, also said her children probably had tried marijuana.

"Children try everything, don't they? But they definitely don't like it and it isn't used, I believe,'

Mrs. Carter plans to be at her husband's side Monday when he officially kicks off his campaign, but after that she'll be on her own, traveling alone in his

"Of course I miss him, and it would be better if I could be with him," she said Wednesday. "But I feel there's so much I can do if I have my own schedule. When I'm with Jimmy, I just tag along.

Mrs. Carter, also a native of Plains, married Carter when she was 19 and he was a 22-year-old Naval Academy graduate.

Like her husband, the 49-year-old Mrs. Carter plans 14- to 16-hour days during the campaign.

The Carters' relationship has always been a true partnership, she said. "We've always done everything together. We've always discussed issues. We just developed a mutual respect for each other."

A quiet, shy woman, she says she has overcome her hesitancy about campaigning and now "I don't have any problems about meeting people. I really enjoy it. When I first started campaigning, when Jimmy ran for governor, it was really hard for me. Almost every day I would think I just couldn't do it."

But she finally learned, she said, that "I did not have to know everything and I don't have to be perfect. I don't have to look exactly right all the

Ford to open road campaign Sept. 12 in Ann Arbor, Mich.

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford will formally open his fall campaign road show the week of Sept. 12 in Ann Arbor, Mich., his spokesman said

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said he had no specific date for the trip but that the President probably would speak at his alma mater, the University of Michigan.

Nessen would not say firmly that the university would be the site and declined to disclose the subject of the speech. He said it would be appropriate to the setting, but would not elaborate.

Ford has listed education as one of seven major issues he intends to discuss during the fall campaign.

In effect, the Ann Arbor trip will be the kickoff of Ford's campaign between now and the November election — but Nessen would not fully accept that interpretation.

You could say the campaign began on July 1, 1975, when he announced his candidacy," Nessen told reporters.

The President's new campaign chairman, James A. Baker III, said earlier that Ford plans to stay close to the White House during most of this month, limiting his campaign travel to a series of relatively brief trips.

Baker said there are no plans for extensive travel or extended presidential vote-hunting trips during the first month of the campaign against Democrat Jimmy Carter.

Carter is formally launching his presidential campaign between now and November with a speech at Warm Va.; and Newark, N.J.

Nessen, in response to a question, indicated Ford will average about one of raising about $3 million in secret trancampaign speech a week this month.

ing this month than during the presiden- the man he defeated for the Republican tial primary elections.

He said the President's travels will increase later in the campaign, but that even then, his managers will seek to avoid long, wearying, multiple-speech

The Ford plan clearly is intended to emphasize his incumbency and use the presidential stage.

Furthermore, Ford's advisers believe he is at his best when his itinerary is limited and his speeches don't come in bunches. They point to his speech accepting the Republican presidential nomination as the kind of campaign performance he can give when he has time to prepare and polish an address.

Carter has tentative plans to cover nearly 20 cities during his first five-day campaign week. It is to take him north to Connecticut, west to Chicago and south to Hollywood, Fla., with appearances in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Ohio in Carter spent Thursday at home in Plains, Ga., preparing for meetings today with his running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale. The two Democratic nominees were to discuss plans for their campaign, which formally opens on Labor Day.

Mondale was in Kansas City, Mo., on Thursday, winding up his first campaign foray, a nine-day journey from coast-tocoast.

At a meeting of the National Conference of State Legislatures, the Minnesota senator said federal bureaucrats often have been arrogant and paternalistic and that a "new, creative partnership" between state and federal governments is needed.

William F. Martin, Phillips board chairman; W.W. Keeler, the firm's chief executive from 1967 to 1972; and Stanley Learned, chief executive from 1964 to

Martin succeeded Keeler on Jan. 1,

Each was charged with conspiray to defraud the government in reporting and paying corporate income taxes.

In a statement from his office, Martin said the charges were unfounded.

"The case will be vigorously defended and I am confident that there will be complete vindication," Martin said.

Neither Keeler nor Learned were not immediately available for comment.

The indictment said that as part of the alleged conspiracy, Phillips used "international couriers, code names, misleading entries, and false invoices and billings which would conceal from the Internal Revenue Service the true nature of the company's income and expenses.'

This, the indictment said, prevented the IRS "from making a complete and accurate audit of the company's books and records for income tax purposes."

There was no estimate of the amount of taxes the company allegedly evaded during the eight-year period.

Besides the conspiracy count, Martin was charged with three counts of assisting in the preparation of false tax returns for 1969 through 1971.

Davis stressed, however that many areas of the state, especially the major metropolitan centers, would be competing strongly for the money. "There'll be a lot of fingers in the pie," he said.

City Economic Development Director Jim Hamm is currently in Denver, Colo., Davis said, attending a Municipal League conference concerning the federal act.

The community college has tried five times unsuccessfully to raise money through local tax levy increases or bond issue proposals to fund the proposed vocational-technical building.

Partly in consideration of that fact, Davis announced his intention of forming a 12- to 15-member citizens advisory group. The group would contain a "cross-section" of persons from various economic, social and vocational backgrounds within the junior college district, he said, and would advise the board on matters concerning the "physical needs of the college."

Bond drops plans for tax for mass transit

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Gov. Christopher S. Bond said today his administration is abandoning any further attempts to find an alternative to the half-cent sales tax subsidizing mass transportation in the urban areas. "In January, I shall recommend to the General Assembly that we make the local sales tax option permanent for mass transportation use," Bond said in releasing a campaign position paper on

The half-cent sales tax was enacted in 1973 to bail out the Bi-State Transportation system in St. Louis and the Area Transportation Authority in Kansas City. It had a two-year time limit, and supporters of the tax claimed it was only a temporary measure while efforts were under way to find an alternative to the tax. The tax was renewed during a special session last fall for another two

Dear Dr. Lamb - What ef- works and is effective fects do nitroglycerine tablets medicine. dissolved under the tongue have on people with heart trouble? It seems to bring relief. I would like to know how this is brought about and how much is it safe to take?

Dear Reader - The principle use of nitroglycerine tablets under the tongue is to relieve transitory chest pain from heart disease. The tablets lose their effectiveness quickly if not stored properly. They should be kept in a tightly sealed glass bottle from your pharmacist. A plastic container will not do. When the bottle is opened, take out a few for your needs and keep the rest in a tightly closed bottle inside the refrigerator." A fresh workable tablet should produce a distinct burning sensation under the tongue. Never use tablets that have been removed from the bottle for longer than a week.

Nitroglycerine causes muscle fibers to relax, mostly the type of muscle we call smooth muscle. Those are the involuntary muscles that are in the walls of the blood vessels and also in the disgestive tube.

As the tiny smooth muscles in the veins relax, the veins expand and trap a larger amount of blood. There is less blood returned to the heart from the veins. The heart doesn't pump as much blood as before and the heart muscle works less.

The heart pain is caused by the heart muscle working too hard in comparison to the amount of circulation it is receiving. When the heart work is decreased the pain goes away. You are right. It other effects - some minor decrease in tone of the large arteries, and it even affects the mineral migrations, particularly potassium, in the cells of the heart muscle during an attack of heart pain. It will also reverse the changes in the electrocardiogram that are associated with some attacks of heart pain.

Nitroglycerine also has

Sometimes the effects of nitroglycerine can mislead the doctor. The emphasis is on its role in relieving heart pain. It will also relieve pain from esophageal muscle spasm. Since esophageal spasm causes chest pain similar to heart pain it is easy to fall into the trap of thinking the relief of pain proves it was heart pain when in fact that may not be the case.

Occasionally nitroglycerine can cause a major drop in blood pressure. This can be an adverse reaction at the onset of a heart attack. For this reason nitroglycerine should only be used by the patient to short recurrent anginal pains or to prevent them. I do not recommend that a patient take them when they have chest pain for the first time in months or the chest pain lasts more than seven or eight minutes. Take only one. Too often new or different or prolonged pain is a full blown heart attack and not just angina. The thing to do is call your doctor, not try to treat yourself.

Overriding debate issue: joblessness vs. inflation

NEW YORK (AP) - The question of just how low we an push unemployment before producing an unacceptable rate of inflation is becoming one of the overriding issues of the debate between Democrats and Republicans. Both agree that there is a limit. Both agree that there comes a point beyond which the only workers remaining are those of low producitivity. capacity is of the same marginal quality.

Nobody seems able to demonstrate at what point the inflationary line is crossed. Four per cent? Six per cent? The answer, so important in terms of prices and jobs, is debatable, and probably will remain so in view of the current poor state of our knowledge.

Not only is there considerable question about the real rate of unemployment some say the statistics overstate the case, some there is uncertainty also about the level of available plant Pierre Rinfret.

The latter measurement, less well known to the general to the manner in which the public than the jobless rate, is devised to provide federal and private officials with an inevitably, wrong figures understanding of how near capacity is the nation's industrial machinery

To encourage further production when plant utilization is near capacity is to invite shortages and inflation. To attempt to curtail plant expansion when more space is needand the only available plant ed also flirts with those maladies.

Are we sure, therefore, that we know when we are nearing capacity? No, we are not.

Several years ago. Rinfret Associates, a consulting organization, began questioning the figures, partly because some customers maintained the figures were wrong, partly because their own surveys were in disagreement.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Fed, to the secretary of commerce and to other public officials. The Fed's figures showed there maintain it understates - but was a lot more capacity to be used than really existed, said

Okay, so there are no 'nice little wars," and perhaps God doesn't take sides in man's rituals of slaughter. But the point remains that we need, somehow, to get into a posture where we can feel on the side of the angels in international disputes.

Illustrative of our dilemma are the situations in Korea and the southern end of Africa

In Korea, we are constantly in danger of being dragged into a war which would prove as unpopular as the recent debacle vious recently when North Korean troops axed to death two GIs in the demilitarized zone.

The U.S. response was a weak, silly show of naval and air force hardware weak for the simple reason that officials here feared military retaliation would provoke new warfare.

In a presidential election year, White House officials are most eager to avoid a new Korean war which would throw the U.S. into a posture of defending a South Korean regime that has become about as ruthlessly oppressive as the Kim Il Sung regime in North Korea.

Trouble is, the U.S. may not be able to control events in Korea, so we could easily wind up fighting in behalf of a government that falls far short of the "freedom" we purport to defend.

It is apparent that South Africa will not willingly relinquish domination of Namibia (South West Africa). Bloody warfare will determine the future rulers of these lands

In South Africa itself, it appears that "the crunch" is coming sooner than most anyone imagined as 18 million blacks begin a violent struggle to wrench themselves out from under the oppressions, brutalizations and indignities imposed by the 4 million whites who hold all meaningful power.

tatives, sensing that all may not be well with the American electorate, voted Wednesday to forego its annual pay raise.

While they were at it, the representatives also exempted senators, cabinet members, federal judges and top executive branch officials from the automatic pay hike. In the case of members of Congress, this would have meant more than a $2,000 raise come Oct. 1 to their present $44,600 annual salary.

The Senate will take up the bill after the Labor Day recess, and may or may not go along with the lower house.

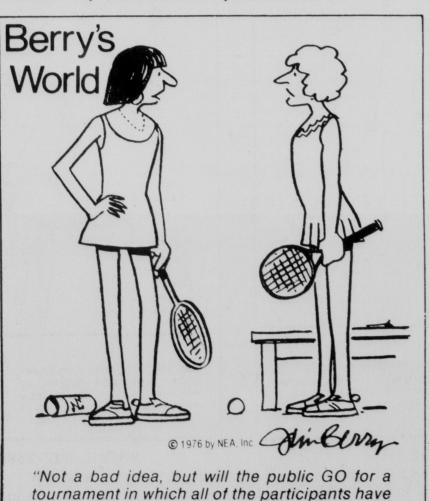

It was a couple of years ago that Congress slyly voted itself into the cost-of-living pay increase business. But exemption this year doesn't necessarily mean that our congressmen will have to go begging. Under another law, a special commission will review congressional salaries next January, and Republicans charge that this could result in a $10,000 pay boost for members of Congress.

Of course, salary doesn't tell the whole story when it comes to public servants.

> Automatic cost-of-living increases for federal employes, especially members of Congress, are a mistake. What possible motivation is there to control inflation when those in a position to do the most about it are cushioned from its effect? The average American wage-earner doesn't enjoy such protection, so we don't see why our legislators should, either.

> We would like to think that the House's decision Wednesday reflected something more than election year politics. Merry-go-round

By JACK ANDERSON with LES WHITTEN

WASHINGTON - On a night in June, a grimy little freighter steamed toward the Egyptian coast and anchored at a lonely spot beyond Alexandria. Suddenly, out of the blackness on the shore, a blue light

Responding to the signal, two huddled figures slipped over the ship's side into a rowboat. Then four heavy nylon bags were lowered carefully into the boat. The two men rode silently toward the eerie,

As they approached the crashing surf, a huge wave gave the boat a mighty heave. "Not far from shore," relates an intelligence report, "the rowboat was swamped by a high wave and sank.'

One crewman was drowned; the other struggled, gasping, to the beach. He was picked up later by Egyptian authorities as he stumbled along the shore. His astonishing story cast doubt on a United Nations report that was issued a month afterward. It could also mean sober news for the United States.

A UN mission reported in July that Turkey's effort to contain and control its opium harvest "definitely works." The Turks held the opium cultivation to 43,400 acres. The crop was supposed to be used strictly for medical purposes, producing codeine for mild medicines and morphine as a pain killer.

But the seaman's story, told to Egypt's top narcotics official, Brig: Gen. Mamdouh Zaki, raises questions about the effectiveness of the Turkish controls. A U.S. narcotics agent was invited to participate in the interrogation.

The seaman told how the Turkish freighter had made an unscheduled stop to a narcotics intelligence report, "the captain ordered the (crewmen) to proceed in a rowboat to a point on the shore Turkish opium harvest. and to pick up (some) ... meat.

But instead of beef, the crewmen picked up four nylon bags packed with high grade opium. There was enough opium in the four sacks to produce more than $1 million worth of heroin. Once the contraband was smuggled aboard, the sooty little freighter headed for the rendezvous off the Egyptian coast.

The Egyptian authorities recovered 270 pounds of opium, which was washed ashore from the capsized rowboat. This seizure, according to the intelligence report, "is the largest in the Alexandria area in the past five years." More important, it is evidence that Turkish opium, in large quantities, is finding its way into the illegal world market.

America's own Drug Enforcement Administration, in an unpublished assessment, has agreed with the United Nations that Turkish controls worked reasonably well this past year. But the DEA questioned whether Turkey would be able to police the 117,200 acres, almost triple the last crop, which has been authorized for 1976.

Unfortunately, the question cannot be answered until April, 1977. By that time, the heroin could be on its way to the streets of America. Almost certainly, this would lead to an epidemic of new ad-

FISCAL CHAOS: Federal, state and local budgets are almost out of control. Government spending is expected soon to hit a mind-boggling $1 trillion a year. The explosion of greenbacks is becoming as difficult to assort as autumn leaves in a

The Treasury Department has begun an heroic effort, nevertheless, to figure out exactly how much America owns and owes. It will be the first complete federal financial statement in history, an ant bed of figures that is supposed to be ready for release early in 1978.

To calculate America's assets and liabilities, the Treasury will rely heavily upon the financial information provided by the various government agencies. But government auditors are worried that the information may be faulty.

Under federal law, each agency must submit regular financial reports to the Treasury and the agency head must make certain that the reports are accurate. Yet the General Accounting Office has warned that only "a small number" of these reports are audited.

A GAO report, intended for official eyes only, declares that the agencies review their accounting systems only sporadically and fail to emphasize audits of the financial reports.

The confidential report cites "major deficiencies in accounting procedures" and stresses the need for "thorough" and "accurate" audits.

Art of putting it off

By DOUG KNEIBERT

I remember reading somewhere about a Procrastinator's Club. I've been meaning to join, but have never gotten around Procrastination is the thief of time, said Edward Young (1683-1765). It must have stolen a lot of Young's time when it came to writing, since no one has ever heard of him.

It was Lord Chesterfield who, in one of his letters to his son, advised him never to put off until tomorrow what you can do

Frankly, I think this is stupid advice. If you really tried to pack into each day everything you could do, you'd be dead of a coronary before you were 30. Talk about type A behavior!

This week I've been going through my date book cleaning out some old memos I wrote to myself. I'd been putting it off for a time. Here are some of the things I ran Drop a note to President Nixon and tell him what you think about Watergate.

- Contribute to the Re-Elect Wayne Hays Committee.

- Invest in CB stock just in case it

 Write Dick and Liz Burton and tell them how happy you were to hear that they had been remarried in Africa.

Look into the possibility of selling kids "faded" blue jeans. They probably would be hard to market because they have a "used" look, but worth checking out. - Ask Howard Hughes if he would let you write his life story if you promised no pictures.

- Do a piece on the real Jimmy Carter.

- Take out drought insurance on

- Write story about a shark that ter-rorizes the East Coast. - See if there would be a market for rocks that you could sell in boxes as 'house pets." It sounds dumb, but it might sell.

As you can see, there is no shortage of good ideas here, it's just finding the time to put them into effect that is the problem. I've already started a new list of ideas for my "Action" basket, that is if I can ever get around to buying one.

Today's thoughts

"He who freely magnifies what hath been nobly done, and fears not to declare as freely what might be done better, gives ye the best covenant of his fidelity." - John Milton, English poet.

"Through ages, through eternity, what you have done for God, that, and only that, you are. Deeds never die." Frederick W. Robertson, English clergyman.

Lo! I tell you a mystery. We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised imperishable, and we shall be changed" - I Cor. 15:51,

Dear K.J.: Here's your letter and my best wishes. Have a ball. It's nobody's business if you and your husband want to whip each other with (or without) a "trusting and mutually rewarding understanding." You can tie each other up, use chains, bedsheets, clotheslines -

True, the centers of pain and pleasure ARE close together, but they are far enough apart so that healthy lovemaking is distinguishable from a sadomasochistic turn-on.

How fortunate that you two fun-loving kids found each other. It would have been disastrous had either of you married someone normal.

Dear Ann Landers: I need help and can't trust anyone but you. I'm a widow, 58 years old. I met this man who seemed very decent and treated me like a lady. He asked me to marry him on our third date. I was lonely and Mr. Z brought a certain excitement into my life that had been missing for a long time. I said yes.

Quiet Fitz gets job done

KANSAS CITY (AP) - Al he's a better pitcher. Wilbur Fitzmorris has yet to pitch in an All-Star game.

Baseball experts don't spend much time comparing him with the likes of Catfish Hunter, Nolan Ryan or Jim Palmer. And Madison Avenue pitchmen don't hound him to promote after shave lotion.

Even on his own team, the mustachioed right-hander with the tantalizing sinkerball is regarded as something less than the staff ace.

In fact, about all Fitzmorris has done in his eight years 2. Pit Stop Cafe, 3-1; 3. White with the Kansas City Royals is

'Yeah, I think I'm underrated," he says unhesitantly. 'It's because I'm not a flashy pitcher. People don't know who I am in the other league, unless they're really astute necessarily a good pitcher. Maybe he can pitch, I haven't three years. seen him. But he creates his own publicity.

Fitzmorris brought a 55-37 career record into the 1976 season, topping the Royals with a won-loss ratio just under 60 per cent. And he's pushing that pace again this year, his 15-9 mark is a big reason the Royals have led the American League West since

'I'll tell you the guys who've carried us this year," says Kansas City Manager Whitey Herzog, whose team has been without the services of Steve Busby since June. "Fitzy, Dennis Leonard and Paul Splittorff.

The big sandy-haired hurler boasts the usual assortment of pitches, but it's his sinker and an unusual determination that has secured his niche with the Royals. It's not unusual for Fitzmorris to pitch much of a game from the stretch posihis "top step pitcher"—but his ability to get the double play grounder has short-circuited more than a few big innings.

A sort of a poor man's Randy Jones, the 30-year-old native of Buffalo, N.Y., readily admits there are a host of more gifted pitchers in the major leagues. But he's quick to qualify that 'A pitcher like Nolan Ryan, throw a ball faster than anyone else. Palmer is another one, although I think but I'm better this year.

Wood has a pitch that's a freak. That doesn't make them good pitchers, though, he explains.

"Say me and Nolan had a contest to throw 10 pitches. Who do you think would throw the most strikes? I would. 'If those kind of pitchers could put seven out of 10 pitches where they wanted. they'd win 25 to 30 games a Fitzmorris and catcher Buck Martinez are the only remaining Royals from the original 1969 squad. But the hurler might still be an unnoticed reliever and spot starter if he had not been sent to the Royals' Omaha farm club after a 2-5 campaign in 1972, his only losing season in professional baseball.

When you get sent out, you 'John Montefusco-people don't think in terms of how it's know who he is. But he's not going to help you," he admits. "You think 'I've been here

'I was comfortable in what was essentially a meaningless job. I was a mop-up man ... I wasn't making much money but more than I probably could have made doing anything else. Yeah, I was complacent.

But Fitzmorris turned a chance to start regularly into a 9-8 record at Omaha, then helped the Royals finish strong with an 8-3 mark in the last two months of 1973. He was 13-6 with a 2.79 earned run average the next year and won 16 of 28 decisions in 1975.

Now I'm one of the main cogs of this ball team. I'm a starter," he says quietly. "I think the team depends on me

Yet even after Fitzmorris won his first five games this season, his name was constantly-if unofficially-bandied about when the Royals tion-Herzog refers to him as discussed possible trades for Bert Blyleven and Ken Holtzman. That hurt, but he has made himself look at the situation positively.

> "The fact that I was always mentioned means someone wanted me," he points out. 'And it speaks for itself that they didn't trade me.

Bert has seven or eight wins and Holtzman has nine. he's got a God-given ability to Together they have just a couple more than I have. I'm not saying I'm a better pitcher,

KU gets early test

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) Opening the football season against nationally-ranked Miami of Ohio is no time to be injured; but the North Carolina Tar Heels will have to face that problem in Saturday's game at Kenan Stadium

Either Bernie Manapace or Matt Kupec will be at quarterback for the Tar Heels in the 1:30 p.m., EDT, game. They were moved to the top of the signal calling list after Johnny Stratton broke his left wrist during a scrimmage a week ago.

Stratton's injury came just 10 days after leg problems cut down P.J. Gay and Johnny Elam, the only other Tar Heel quarterbacks with varsity experience.

"It's always tough to lose a first-string player." said Coach Bill Dooley. "We've certainly had some tough luck at quarterback this fall. But it's nice to know we still have two highly-capable players there in Bernie Menapace and Matt Kupec.

The Tar Heels, 3-7-1 in 1975, figure to have one of their toughest opening-game tests against the Redskins, 11-1 last year, who were ranked 20th in The Associated Press preseason poll. The only other game this week involving a rated team has No. 19 Kansas at Oregon State. Other top games on a light Saturday include New Mexico State at Drake, Marshall at Morehead State, Appalachian State at South Carolina, Virginia Tech at Wake Forest, Mississippi at Memphis State, Furman at North Carolina State, Richmond at Tulsa, Texas-Arlington at Texas-El Paso, Utah State at San Jose State. Northeast Louisiana at Arkansas State and Ohio University at Eastern Michigan.

For the last three years, college football — sharing 32-1-1 marks. In addition, the Ohio team has won the Tangerine Bowl title the last three years.

Coach Dick Crum, starting his third season at Miami, has 27 lettermen back, including seven starters on both offense and defense.

One of the returnees is senior Rob Carpenter, 13th in the nation last year in rushing with 1,022 yards in 235 carries and 16th in the nation in scor ing with 11 touchdowns.

North Carolina hopes to counter with tailback Mike Voight, the Atlantic Coast Conference player of the year in 1975. He has rushed for more than 1,000 yards in each of the last two years.

Kansas opens with what may be the strongest backfield in the school's history. Quarterback Nolan Cromwell was the offensive player of the year last season in the Big Eight and halfback Miami and Oklahoma have Laverne Smith starts the amassed the best records in season as the school's No.3 all-time rusher. He needs only 580 yards to pass Gale Sayers and 611 to pass John Riggins.

New Mexico State has had three straight 5-6 campaigns.

Rain slows play in the U.S. Open

Swedish sensation Bjorn Borg and Argentina's Guillermo Vilas fought off opponents in wind and rain and Janet thunder at the water-logged U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

Showers which began early Thursday soaked the clay courts at the West Side Tennis Club throughout the day, delaying the start of play for two hours and stopping it for two more during the afternoon. Several matches were postponed and others were played in continuous drizzle on soggy courts.

All of that was just fine with Miss Newberry, a 23-year-old scrambler from La Jolla, Calif. Miss Newberry took on third-seeded Martina Navratilova early in the evening and stunned the Czechoslovakian expatriate 1-6, 6-4, 6-3 in a thrilling centercourt match.

Miss Newberry, coming off a knee operation and 20 pounds lighter than she was vantage of a lapse in concentration by her opponent to win the second set after being crushed in the first. She Newberry supplied the repeatedly fired passing shots past the charging Navratilova, mixing them with soft, accurate lobs.

> She broke Martina twice en route to a 5-1 lead in third set, dropped the next two games, then won the match in the ninth game with a sizzling forehand down the line, followed by an ace. Martina slumped into a chair at courtside and wept.

"I was really mad," said the 20-year-old Miss Navratilova "They canceled everyone else's match. I was waiting five hours. I was sure there was no way we would play and I wanted to eat.

"Then, suddenly, they told us we'd have to play.

Fourth-seeded Virginia Wade, fifth-seeded Nancy Richey and seventh-seeded Kerry Reid all managed to get their first-round matches in between the showers.

1, 6-2, and said she didn't mind the rain a bit. "It's lovely, really," said the lady from London. "It's just like being at

Miss Richey topped Kathy Harter, 6-3, 7-6, and Mrs. Reid beat Linda Thomas, 6-3, 6-1. Top seed Chris Evert plays Saturday, second seed Evonne Goolagong played today.

Borg, the winner of the Wimbledon and U.S. Pro Championships, looked devastating in trouncing unheralded Australian Cliff Letcher, 6-2, 6-2.

Vilas had slightly more trouble before downing Ross Case of Australia 6-2, 6-4. The lanky third seed coasted through the first set before Case rallied in the second, breaking Vilas to tie at 4-4.

But Vilas, playing mostly in the back court, quickly broke back, then won the final game as Case sent a backhand shot sailing over the base line.

Vitas Gerulaitis, the only other men's seed to see action, cruised by Steve Krulevitz 6-2, Miss Wade trounced 6-2 in a second-round match.

Cromwell beat out Mike Hubach and Bill Lillis for the Kansas punting job, Moore announced Thursday after practice, and will be handling those duties when the Jayhawks kick off their 1976 campaign in Corvallis, Ore.

But there is still some question whether Cromwell will be completely healthy for the encounter. One source said Thursday that the senior from Ransom, Kan., broke his nose during practice, but Moore would make no comment on the matter.

Large farms making money, little ones not, report says

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new government report says farmers who run large farms are making money on their investments while smaller operators often are losing money and depend mostly on outside jobs to support themselves

Issued Friday by the Agriculture Department, the report said that of more than 2.9 million farms in 1970, twothirds showed net losses in terms of financial return on equity capital or net assets.

Officials said the report was based primarily on a 1970 survey of farm finances made available two years ago by the Bureau of the Census. They said the report represents the latest information on the subject.

As defined in the report, the smaller farms were those that sold less than $10,000 worth of products in a year.

By that measure, the nearly two million farms in that category produced only 11.8 per cent of the nation's food and fiber in 1970, while 966,000 farms with sales of $10,000 or more produced 88.1 per cent.

The trend to fewer, larger farms producing a larger share of the nation's food and fiber has been going on for some time and officials said the new report helped confirm earlier studies.

Written by J. Bruce Hottel and Robert D. Reinsel of the department's Economic Research Service, the report said the Class 1A category of the largest farms - some 55,000 with annual sales of $100,000 or more a year each had an average return on net assets of 6.9 per cent.

Other sales categories and returns shown in the report included:

-Class 1B, some 178,000 farms each with annual sales of $40,000 to $99,999 a year, a return of 5.9 per cent.

-Class II, 343,000 farms with sales of $20,000 to $39,999 a year, 4.4 per cent. -Class III, 390,000 farms with sales of $10,000 to $19,999 a year, 2.9 per cent

The report showed that when annual sales dropped below $10,000 there was a

"negative return" on net assets ranging from a loss of one-tenth of 1 per cent for farms with sales of $5,000 to $9,999 to losses of more than 6 be equal to four-tenths of 1 per per cent for lower categories.

Although the report said the study was based on the most recent available information, an agency spokesman said it was difficult to say whether the trends have continued since 1970. New studies, based on more recent census material, probably will not be ready for another two years, he said.

The main reason why the smaller farms continue to exist despite their apparent profit losses is that many serve as jobholders and retired persons, the report said.

'Farms with gross farm sales below $5,000 in 1970 obtained over 90 per cent of their 1978, the additional assesstotal income from off-farm sources," the report said. 'The dependence on off-farm income generally decreased as farm size increased.

On the average for the nation's 2.9 million farms in 1970, however, off-farm income represented 54 per cent of total income that year. Even in the highest sales category of $100,000 or more, off-farm income represented 12 per cent of the total income for those farms

Cotton hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has scheduled a series of hearings on proposals to increase assessments on cotton growers to carry out research and development programs.

Officials said the proposals are provided by new legislation recently passed by Congress. The hearings will be held to collect views from cotton growers and other interested persons on the proposed rule changes.

Currently, as for some years, growers are assessed $1 per bale annually to finance research and promotion programs. The proposals under consideration will retain the $1 per bale rate and add a further assessment according to a for-Officials said Thursday that the additional assessment will cent of the gross sales price for each bale of cotton, starting with the 1978 crop, the additional assessment could be increased to as much as 1 per cent of the gross sales price of each cotton bale. At the current farm price of upland cotton — an average of 61 cents a pound on Aug. 15 a bale with a net weight of 480 pounds is worth about $292. Thus, at the proposed 1977 assessment level of fourtenths of 1 per cent, the additional levy would be about rural residences for town $1.17 a bale or a total of $2.17 counting the basic $1 charge.

If the current price of cotton continued and the full 1 per cent rate were enforced in ment could rise to $2.92 a bale for a total of $3.92 a bale, counting the basic $1 fee

The hearings will be held in Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 20 at the Downtown Ramada Inn: Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 23, Airport Ramada Inn: Dallas, Tex., Sept. 28, Sheraton-Safari Inn, and Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 30, Airport Ramada Inn. The Memphis meeting will begin at 1 p.m. local time and the other three at 10 a.m. local times.

USDA asks help

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department has asked for help in tracing sheep that may have been exposed to scrapie - a disease of the animal's central nervous system — on an Illinois farm. Officials in the department's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service said Thursday that sheep scrapie was recently diagnosed in an animal sold from the S. R. Jackson farm in La Salle County, Ill., and that "it has not been possible to trace animals sold from that flock during the past few years.'

A spokesman said sheep scrapie is a "relatively uncommon" disease in the United States. Officials said that scrapie can be transmitted to humans. However, sale of sheep and goats exposed to the disease for human consumption is banned by federal

Winners in local drawing are selected

Four persons were selected in a drawing at the monthly meeting of the Mid-Missouri Humane Society Thursday evening to have their pets spayed or neutered for half price, by the veterinarian of their choice, with the society paying the other half.

Rudy Rouchka, Christy Combs. Mrs. Tom Miller and Ray Hopper were selected. Drawings for the half-price surgeries will be held at each monthly meeting. Persons wishing to enter the drawing may send post cards to the society at Box 1171, Sedalia. Cards should include the owner's name, address and telephone number, as well as the pet's breed, sex and age.

Members of the society plan to purchase self-waterers for the City Animal Shelter. New cat pens and automatic selffeeders have already been acquired. The building will be painted Sept. 18. Persons wishing to help with the project are asked to contact Dr. Robert Gouge at the G & G Veterinary Hospital. An open house will be held at the shelter on Oct. 9.

Olympic runner takes prep job

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Two-time Olympic distance runner Doug Brown has been named track and cross country coach at Knoxville Fulton High School.

Brown, the American record-holder in the 3,000meter steeplechase, won the event at the U.S. Olympic trials in June but lost a shoe and failed to qualify for the finals at Montreal. He also was on the U.S. team in the 1972 games at Munich.

Four of last year's post-season bowl teams help kick off the 1976 football season Saturday. It's rather a thin fare with only fifteen major games on tap. However, it's the beginning!

Miami of Ohio, beaten only by Michigan State last year and champions of the Mid-American Conference, whipped South Carolina in the Tangerine Bowl last December. They tackle North Carolina of the Atlantic Coast Conference in a good test for both teams. We give the edge to Miami by nine points.

The loser in that Tangerine encounter, the South Carolina Gamecocks, open their season against Appalachian State. The Mountaineers are starting their second year as a major football team, and will be 19-point underdogs to South Carolina.

In their first season as a Division I or major football team, Arkansas State came up with a real powerhouse in 1975. Their 92.5 power quotient placed them within breathing distance of our Top Twenty Teams when the season ended. The Indians will be heavily favored over Northeast Louisiana in game number one. The spread is 31 points.

The Peach Bowl last December saw West Virginia nose out North Carolina State, 13-10. State takes on Furman in the opener for both clubs Saturday, and they shouldn't have too much trouble. Furman is "favored" to lose by 27 points.

Kansas of the Big Eight and independent power Pittsburgh put on a real offensive show in the Sun Bowl last year. The Panthers stole center stage away from the Jayhawks, winning 33-19. We had rated Kansas #14 in the country, Pittsburgh #16. Kansas meets Oregon State in the first intersectional battle of the season, but if form holds up, it may not be that much of a battle. The Jayhawks, on paper, are 31 point favorites.

And hoping to return to national prominence after four down-years, the Mississippi Rebels face always dangerous Memphis State. Though the Rebels are favored by fifteen points, this game is always a toughie.

sudden, there's Lisa Mordente all over the TV

A pleasant sight it is, too. She's petite, has sparkly brown eyes, a very alive face and rings of black curly hair.

She is a regular on Viva Valdez, her first TV appearance. Then she made a pilot for CBS-TV, Cousins, which didn't sell but which was telecast. She has done a guest appearance in a segment of Welcome Back, Kotter for the new season and she says they wanted the character to be a regular, but there were problems in contract negotiations.

She also made a guest appearance in a segment of Starsky and Hutch for next season, and that character, she says, will probably be recurring. She's also in a TV movie, "I Want to Keep My Baby.

Meanwhile, she has her second series, the revamped Doc, which returns to CBS in its second season with a new

Doc will be working in a clinic in New York and Lisa plays Teresa, a receptionist.

Where did Lisa come from? Well, she's show business-born, being the daughter of Chita Rivera and Tony Mordente, choreographer and director.

She has, she says, never studied acting. "I'm a dancer and a singer." Her debut came "years ago" she says when she and "Mama did 'America' on The Merv Griffin Show.'

She toured in the National Companies of both "Bye Bye Birdie" and "Zorba" with "Mama" and she played Agnes in "Gypsy" Angela Langsbury

Ask her for specifics about any of them and you'll get, "It was great" or "It was fun" or "It was marvelous" or "It was wonderful." Lisa is contagiously enthusiastic about everything.

She was cast in Viva

Is Audie Murphy still alive? When was he born? A Fan, Alexandria, La.

Murphy, who was born in 1924, was killed in a plane crash a few years ago. He was a war hero who became a successful actor.

Valdez long distance. "I was in New York singing and dancing," she says, "and I got a call from a lady to come in for a reading. On the third day I got another telephone call saying 'Get on a plane and go to California.' I couldn't believe it. I haven't stopped working since I got here.

Lisa is wearing a black pants outfit and two small dog tags hang from a chain around her neck. The letter L, in diamonds, hangs from another chain. "The dog tags are from my father and Fred Ebb and the L is from Mama.

Lisa adores her mother. You can her it in the way she says "mama.

"I love her so much," she says. "We're so close. She is staying with me now. She's opening her act in Los Angeles in September and then she goes to Las Vegas. We're so excited about her act.

Lisa's best friend is Liza Minnelli, and they make great jokes about their names. "I call her Lies and she calls me Leese," Lisa says. "But when we're together, we answer no matter what we hear.

When asked if there was anything she wasn't enthusiastic about she said, "No, and that scares me in a way. I have a beautiful apartment and terrific friends. I keep my distance from the Hollywood scene: I don't want to get involved in that stuff.

"I'm a loner, I guess. I love closing the door to apartment and saying goodbye. I have a kitten named Pirate and he's so cute. He's a tyrant. But I am real happy and I am really surrounded here at Doc by terrific, happy people.

Average taxpayer's bill will be $4.50 more

The average Pettis County taxpayer will be paying about $4.50 more this year in county taxes, based strictly on the 48cent per $100 assessed valuation general revenue levy set by the County Court Tuesday.

This is based on an average assessed valuation in the county of slightly less than $5,500 per taxpayer. This is figured by dividing the approximately 22,000 parcels of land in the county into the total property valuation of $120,751,085. This means the average taxpayer will pay slightly over $26.48 into the general revenue fund this year, compared to slightly

The 48-cent levy will generate $582,755.20 in general revenue funds, an increase of slightly more than $100,000 or about 20 per cent compared to revenue collected under the

however, because most of the approximately 22,000 individual parcels of land in the county are relatively small tracts, when compared to the large farms in the county. Most individual parcels are located inside the various towns inside the county. He also noted that rates used for farm and dwelling lands are not the same for valuation purposes.

More realistic figures can be obtained, McCune said, after all the school and special tax districts set their levies for this year. The total property tax against individual properties can only be derived, he said, after all tax levies pertaining to different areas are known and multiplied with individual assessed valuations

McCune and the County Court said Wednesday that the 2cent decrease in the levy is actually higher than it appears' because all real estate valuations were decreased by 10 per cent, across- the-board, after the recent reappraisal project was completed. If that 10 per cent had not been taken off then, it was explained, the actual reduction in the old 50-cent levy, which stood for several years, would have been higher.

The County Court also corrected figures released Tuesday in an explanation of why the extra $100,000 was needed for 1976, when compared to 1975's general revenue tax collections. Using round figures, the Court said Wednesday that approximately $80,000 was needed for election costs, the new County Health Center, a possible grand jury and possible unpaid Social Security funds.

A prepared statement by the County Court Wednesday said $40,000 for elections, $20,000 for the health center, and $15,000 for a possible grand jury accounted for $75,000 of that total.

Western Judge Paul White said an additional $12,000 was needed this year for a possible minunderstanding over Social Security payments by the county and another $18,000 was needed for the reassessment project.

White corrected those two figures Wednesday, noting that the Social Security figure amounts to $5,000, not $12,000, and that the $18,000 for reassessment was paid out of federal revenue sharing funds, not the general revenue budget.

The Social Security problem arose shortly after the first of the year, when state officials questioned payments for public administrators, surveyors and assessors, on a statewide basis. The state contended the counties had not made all required payments. However, the counties responded that they were not responsible because of a misunderstanding over state procedures. The problem has still not been resolved, the County Court said Wednesday, and the $5,000 set aside for that purpose will remain there until it is.

All three judges, Presiding Judge John Bluhm Jr., Eastern Judge Russell McFatrich and White, indicated Wednesday that general revenue fund requirements should be considerably lower next year. A further decrease in the levy may be acceptable then, it was noted, depending upon requirements faced by the county.

Jobless rate for Missouri at 4.7 percent

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) -Unemployment in Missouri dropped to its lowest level in 22 months in August, according to preliminary figures released Thursday by the state Division of Employment Security.

The figures showed the jobless rate at 4.7 per cent for August, down from 5.4 per cent for the month before. The division will adjust the employment figures for both August and July later this month.

Less than 98,000 persons were out of work in August, according to the preliminary figures compared to 112,000 in July.

"Our most recent unemployment figures provide great encouragement about our present situation and even greater hope for the future of Missouri's economy," said Gov. Christopher S. Bond in citing the latest statistics.

Oil company, executives face charges

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted Phillips Petroleum Co., its board chairman and two former chairmen Thursday on federal tax charges alleging a global conspiracy to conceal $3 million in Swiss bank accounts and a secret cache at company headquarters.

The indictment, climaxing a months-long investigation, named the company, board chairman William F. Martin and two former chairmen and presidents, W.W. Keeler and Stanley F. Learned.

The company and the three men were charged with conspiring to defraud the United States by impeding the Internal Revenue Service in assessing and collecting corporate income taxes from 1963-1971

Martin, in a statement from his office, said, "I have been appraised of the charges in the indictment and I want to state that such charges are unfounded. The case will be vigorously defended and I am confident that there will be complete vindication.

'Thing of the past'

Torture used against IRA

LONDON (AP) - British troops and police tortured and mistreated suspected Irish Republican Army members in Northern Ireland during the last five months of 1971, the European Commission of Human Rights said Thursday. The British government did not deny the charges, but said its forces no longer uses such tactics.

The commission's report cleared Britain of charges of otherwise violating human rights with tough antiterrorist legislation and noted that those who had been mistreated were paid substantial compensation.

The mission, based in Strasbourg, France, also ruled that British forces did not discriminate between feuding Protestants and Roman Catholics in its policy of holding suspects without trial.

The report is the result of a five-year government charged in December 1971 that Britain had tortured prisoners and violated human rights in Northern Ireland. It was released simultaneously in London, Dublin and Strasbourg.

'We do not challenge the report," a British government official said. "We do not deny that unpleasant things happened. But it's a thing of the past. We no longer use the interrogation techniques described in the report.

The commission's findngs and the Irish government's determination to press its charges have strained relations between Dublin and London at a time both are fighting terrorism.

Merlyn Rees, Britain's secretary for Northern Ireland, angrily accused Dublin of "raking up" the past. "I can see no justification for the Irish government's persistence in pressing it. The only people who can derive any satisfaction investigation launched after the Irish from all this are the terrorists

Council approves fair housing rule

In a brief meeting which preceded talks with fire fighters, the City Council unanimously voted to adopt an ordinance providing for "fair housing practices" in Sedalia Wednesday night. The council also adopted an affirmative action plan.

The new ordinance brings the city into line with existing state and federal laws, according to Tom Delph, administrator of the Community Block Grant Program.

The lengthy housing ordinance provides that discrimination against individuals in real estate sales or rental on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin is illegal.

Discrimination is banned in sales, rentals, charge of services, display of property advertisements terms of conditions of sales or rentals, granting or denying of loans "or other financial assistance

In addition, agents or individuals who pay others to act in violation of the new city law are equally responsible for such

Those exempted from the ordinance include persons selling their own single family home, provided the owner does not own more than three single family dwellings at one time. Though this exemption applies to individuals selling their own homes, and not real estate agents, the individual may use attorneys, escrow agents, abstractors, title companies and "other such professional assistance as necessary to perfect or transfer the title.

To enforce the ordinance, the Human Rights Commission is authorized to investigate complaints of discrimination. A Conciliation Committee will also be appointed by the commission to resolve complaints.

After complaints are filed with the commission, the city clerk, according to the ordinance, will serve a copy of the complaint on the individual or group alledged to have committed the violation. The complaint must be served within three days.

After investigating the complaint, the committee is to set a date for a conference between the disputing parties. If

Viking 2 ready to land

Viking I already a success

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Viking 2 Mars probe got a clean bill of health Thursday for its venturesome expedition to the planet that is hostile and puzzling but no longer a stranger

The unmanned landing craft was given a thorough check-up in preparation for its release from the orbiting Viking 2 mother ship on Friday, and the tricky descent to the surface.

After the five-hour examination, mission officials said the 1,300-pound landing craft appeared to be "in very good shape" for its three-hour journey to its target. During the check, the lander's own nuclear generators were turned on.

Its landing, set for about 7 p.m. EDT, marks the second stage of an exploration already so lucrative that scientists may spend years in their laboratories refining the scientific gold.

With Viking 2 set to begin its work, the Viking 1 lander entered a period of reduced activity.

In the six weeks since its July 20 landing, plus the previous month spent in orbit, Viking has done much to strip Mars of its mystery. Yet some major issues, particularly the question of Martian life. remain clouded

"There is no question about the success of Viking," said the chief project scientist, Dr. Gerald Soffen. "It has landed safely on Mars and gathered some remarkable data.

Because of Viking, he said, "We really do know something about the atmosphere" and its makeup in the early history of the planet. "We have begun to understand the geology of the surface.

"But the chemistry of the surface is still very confusing. The chemistry is going to be very complicated on Mars," he said. He was referring to strange goingson in the Martian topsoil that have been detected by life-seeking experiments aboard the Viking 1 lander.

Much of what Viking 1 has found with its cameras and testers was not unexpected, but needed to be confirmed.

Some discoveries, such as the presence of argon and nitrogen gases in the atmosphere, gere completely new.

Perhaps the most striking finding in general was that "Mars has revealed much more variety than anticipated,' according to Soffen.

At a forum for visiting scientists this week, Soffen enumerated Viking 1's

-Evidence of volcanic, fluvial (watercaused), aeolian (wind-caused) and depositional processes on Mars. There are craters resembling those on the Moon, but they seem to have occurred at one-tenth the frequency and wind has eroded them relatively slowly.

The great Vallis Marineris, a series of canyons that far outstrips our Grand Canyon in size, was formed by much more recent processes than the craters were. These processes may still be

-The vast plains of the northern region are laced with almost geometric patterns of cracks, resembling some areas of the Arctic region on Earth.

-There is a great variety of rocks near the Viking 1 lander, all with a fine red

-The sky contains suspended dust particles that make it look pink.

-Nitrogen and argon have been discovered in the atmosphere. Using the measurements of these gases, scientists have concluded that Mars' atmosphere was once significantly different and probably somewhat thicker than it is now

Firemen, council meet again after rift

Fire fighters and city officials made up the morning after a dispute over promotion procedures halted continuation of talks concerning an agreement between the city and Local 823 of the International Association of Fire Fighters

A meeting between Mayor Allen Hawkins, Fourth Ward Democrat David Curry, Fire Chief Willis Jabas, Assistant Chief Ken Sublett and members of the union, including Stanton Gladen, international staff representative of the union, was held Thursday morning.

Hawkins told The Democrat-Capital he called the meeting to clarify differences between the union and the council's fire and water committee. Talks between those two groups broke down Wednesday night when Curry, chairman of the committee, affirmed reports presented to him that the union had voted to boycott driver's examinations held Thursday.

The disagreements between the committee and the union center on a list posted at the central fire station recently setting requirements for promotion.

According to the standards set forth in the list, authored by the committee, fire fighters are to be promoted on the following basis: written examination, seniority and interviews conducted by the chief and assistant chief. The examination accounts for 60 per cent of the evaluation. seniority 15 per cent and the interviews

According to the agreement reached Thursday morning, percentages will not change. However, standards for interview evaluation were set up. The interview evaluation will include comments of the fire fighter's immediate supervisior, training, attendance and evaluation of

The union had felt too much emphasis had been placed on the interviews with the chief and assistant chief. They also objected to the posting of the promotion schedule during negotiations. The posting was viewed as a breach of faith by union officials.

The guys were just asking for a fair shake," Hawkins said after the Thursday morning meeting, "and the chief wanted it too. It was just a matter of getting together.

For Thursday morning's action to become official, the full council will have to approve it. However, Hawkins indicated this was just a formality.

Meanwhile, Thursday afternoon, city street and alley, sanitation, sewer and cemetery workers met with Hawkins and five other councilmen to discuss a new salary schedule that had first been proposed a month and a half ago. The city workers threatened twice last July to walk off their jobs because of salary complaints, but an $80 across-theboard increase for all city employes and a promise by former Mayor Carl Franklin to look into the matter halted the strike.

Street superintendent Vernon Ditton, one of the negotiators for the workers, said a new salary and benefit schedule would be drawn up by the workers and presented to the City Council for final action. The major difference between the new salary proposal and the old one—aside from adjustments for the $80 increase—will be generally lower salary increase demands and a re-classification of job titles. Ditton said.

The old salary proposal listed 10 job *categories, while the new one will increase that number by at least three to account for more specific job classifications. Ditton, who said he will be on vacation for about 10 days, said the new proposal should be finished in about two

The workers had originally asked for pay increases that included $127 per month for laborers, $134 per month for heavy equipment operators, $99 per month for city mechanics and $63 per month for sewage plant operators.

The workers also requested three weeks vacation after 10 years service and four weeks after 15 years. They currently receive two weeks' vacation after 15 years. A request to raise paid sick days for employes from one day per month to 14 per month was also made.

Pinning down Ford, Carter on abortion

the hottest potato in this political year. There is some fancy footwork going on in both parties.

Take Jimmy Carter, for instance. The Democratic presidential candidate said Tuesday that he was opposed to his party's platform statement on abortion, although the plank was written to his specifications. Does this mean Carter favors a constitutional amendment banning abortion, which the Democratic party opposes in its platform?

Not really. All Carter is saying now is that he would not oppose such an amendment. This latest switch was not enough to satisfy the National Council of Catholic Bishops, which has been pressing the candidate hard on this

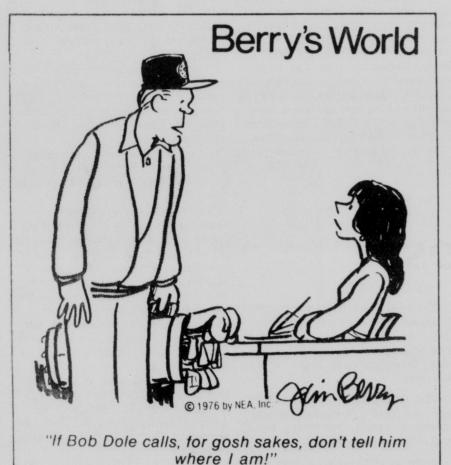

On the Republican side, President Ford new finds himself standing on a party platform that condemns abortion and comes out strongly for a constitutional amendment. Does this mean Ford's position is anti-abortion? That's hard to say, since the most Ford would say in the past is that he would

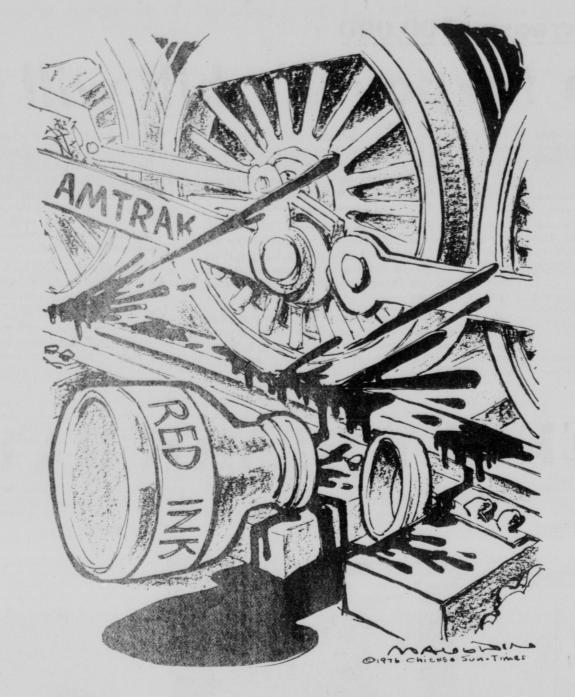

The abortion issue may well be support a state-by-state referendum on the issue. The antiabortion plank is in the Republican platform because Ronald Reagan wanted it there, not because Ford pushed for it.

> Ford also addressed the bishops recently, using the occasion to condemn what he called the increasing disregard for human life. But he stopped short of backing the right-to-life amendment, which foes of abortion-on-demand see as the only alternative remaining in view of recent Supreme Court decisions.

> In balance, however, the Republican platform — although by no means a binding document offers pro-life forces at least something. Combine this with Ford's own apparent movement in this direction, and the chances are good that the GOP will capture this increasingly important voting bloc.

That is unless Jimmy Carter changes his mind again, moving from his I-don't-care position (which he also seems to favor on other subjects) to one more em-

WASHINGTON - The story can now be told how the three superpowers, thanks to a word that President Ford has banned during the presidential campaign, averted a military crisis in Korea. The word is "detente.

The murder of two American officers by axe-wielding North Korean guards was the sort of incident which, in times past, might have brought the United States to the edge of a war that could have involved Russia and China.

Instead, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger asked both the Russians and Chinese to use their influence to cool the crisis. Secret intelligence reports state that both superpowers intervened with North Korea. The pressure was too great for North Korea's militant Kim Il Sung to buck. He issued a personal statement that the slaying of the two Americans was "regretful." It was the first apology Kim has ever made to the United States.

The attitude of the Russians and Chinese raises the hope that future incidents can be defused before they develop into a war of incredible magnitude. In a typical cable, for example, the U.S. embassy in Moscow quoted the comment of an official in the Soviet foreign ministry.

The confidential cable quoted the Soviet as saying: "With friends like Kim, who needs enemies?" This probably wasn't the official's exact language but, rather, the embassy's paraphrase of what the official meant. But he went on to decry Kim's meddling with the balance of power.

But Assistant Secretary of State Philip

President comes out a fighter

By RAY CROMLEY NEA News Analyst

KANSAS CITY, Mo. - For some time it has seemed that President Gerald Ford had begun to believe those who said he was a caretaker president who arrived in his office by a one-in-a-thousand accident

That changed when he won in Kansas City - narrowly to be sure, but won - what may have been the most difficult campaign of his career, against Ronald Reagan, possibly the ablest campaigner in the United States today, and John Sears, probably the ablest political manager around.

Jerry Ford became overnight a tiger, if you can picture an amiable tiger. No longer was this a Mr. Ford with President Truman as his idol. This was Harry Truman running against the formidable Tom Dewey, disastrous polls, newspaper headlines and all - Tom Dewey the unbeatable. Mr. Ford knew all too well that veteran political observers were saying that it did not matter who the Republicans nominated, Carter had the election in the bag.

This Ford overruled advisers who warned against debating the formidable Jimmy Carter, and ignored those counselors who recommended he give up campaigning so far as possible and stick close to the White House and his day-today presidential duties. His dullness, their data showed, turned off both workers and voters.

Instead, he came out, after his nomination, in the roughest public political speech this mild-mannered man has to my knowledge made in his two years as

He chose as his running mate Sen. Robert Dole, of Kansas, of whom Sen. Barry Goldwater has said: "He's the first man we've had around here in a long time who will grab the other side by the hair and then drag them down the hill." The new Mr. Ford, actually, should be no surprise. The man in the White House these past two years has not been representative of the Ford of this past quarter century in dog-eat-dog congressional politics. He did not get to be minority leader of the House on a "nice guy" platform. And he did not hold that post by being a milk toast champion. Hardly had the young Ford hit the floor of Congress but that he began what was probably the most vigorous series of attacks on the Democratic majority bloc the House of Representatives had seen for many a year. He eventually teamed up with that spellbinder Sen. Everett Dirksen in what became known as the Ev and Jerry show with, as I recall, weekly attacks on anything and everything brought forth in those years when, as now, the Democrats usually ruled Congress. He pulled no punches; nor did Dirksen.

It is clear Mr. Ford's people have already been researching in detail Jimmy Carter's record as governor, in the legislature, on his home town school board, his time in the Navy - down even to his credibility as a poor farm boy, the first in his family to have a chance.

It is clear Jimmy Carter's honesty, made an issue in this campaign by Carter himself, will be a major point of attack. Dole is prepared at the drop of a hat to relate what Carter has told labor on Monday and management on Thurs-

It is clear too that Mr. Ford expects Jimmy Carter and Walter Mondale will constantly jab away at Watergate. And in Dole, again, he picked a man who fielded that issue in his last campaign for the Senate in 1974 in a manner Congressional Quarterly describes as a strategic masterpiece. Unable to dispose of the Watergate issue, says CQ, Dole turned it to his advantage — managed to brand his challenger as a "mudslinger.

What happened to American honesty?

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

WASHINGTON - The FBI's Uniform Crime Report turns up in the mail toward the end of every August; and every August the report provides melancholy reading. This year's edition prompts a sad and sobering question: What ever became of simple honesty in America?

Violent, yes. We have long and ugly tradition of gunslinging, lynch laws and barroom brawls. But dishonesty? Larcenous? Our people were not always this way. Most Americans of middle age can remember a time when houses were seldom locked, and bicycles were not casually stolen, and the rare bank robbery was a national news event. There once was a time when property was generally, if not perfectly, respected. Even in the depth of the Depression, when millions of our people were desperately poor, stealing was not

What has gone wrong? Over the 15 years between 1960 and 1975, our population increased by roughly 15 per cent. In this same period, crimes against property increased by 178 per cent.

In 1960, the FBI reported 1,034 larcenies per 100,000 population. Last year the rate was 2,805. In 1960, the rate on motor vehicle thefts was 183; last year

Perhaps whole numbers carry greater impact. In 1960, the FBI reported 912,000 burglaries. Last year the figure was 3,252,000 burglaries, an increase of 256 per cent. The increase in robberies was even greater, from 108,000 in 1960 to 465,000 last year.

What accounts for this cancerous growth within our society? How do you explain the figures?

If we were dealing with crimes of violence, perhaps some blame might rationally be laid on TV. It seems reasonable to surmise that a generation of young people, reared to seeing blood shed in living color on the screen, might incline toward violence on the streets. You could turn around on the easy availability of handguns. You might find a farfetched explanation in the experience of violence in Vietnam. In the matter of rape, which now occurs on an average of once every nine minutes, you might talk of changing sexual mores.

But one searches in vain for an explanation of the soaring increase in crimes against property. Doubtless, drugs are a factor; addicts steal to support their habits. Poverty may account for some thefts; people steal to eat - but our people have been poor before, much poorer than they are now, and the country experienced no such fearful invasion of property rights.

The worst of the situation, perhaps, is that the FBI's report depicts only a part - the most obvious part — of the appall-Ing picture. Across the country, merchants suffer from a plague of shoplifting that hurts every consumer. At the highest levels of the business community, tales of bribery abound. Within the medical profession, the number of fraudulent Medicare-Medicaid claims increases. We have cheating scandals in our greatest universities and in the service academies. Where have we lost the way? How did we manage to lose the way so quickly? When crime increases at more than 10 times the rate of population increase, our country suffers a raging, epidemic ill-

Has the machinery of law enforcement failed? Evidently it has. Barely one out of every five crimes against property is cleared by arrest. Of those arrested, only two-thirds are found guilty as charged. Of those two-thirds, perhaps one-third actually serves time in jail. The juvenile who steals a car knows that the odds are 20 to one against his ever being caught or the home, in the schools, in the churches, in business and human relationships. A few years ago, writing these end-of-August essays, I was urging more police, more courts, larger prisons, longer sentences. It still strikes me as important to crack down on the repeaters - the 'career criminals" - and to impose punishments that may not rehabilitate but surely will incarcerate. But massive injections of law enforcement may treat only the symptoms without touching the underlying illness. This is a sickness of character, and God alone knows how we treat that.

Mom ignores girl's jabbering

Dear Ann Landers: I've started this letter over half a dozen times and still can't figure out how to put it - so, Ann, please bear with me while I tell you my problem. Actually it's HER problem my mom's.

I'm an outgoing, happy, alltogether, 14-year-old girl. There are six kids in our family. I try not to rattle on and on when I talk. I know how boring it can be. But I do like to tell my mom the fun things that happen during the day.

She seems interested at the beginning, then in the middle of a sentence she'll pick up a newspaper and start to read. I start to talk faster just to finish what I'm saying. Then she says, "Quit jabbering. You sound like an idiot.'

Yesterday was the last straw. She started to read a cookbook and I stopped talking in the middle of a sentence. Mom didn't even notice. I don't think I should talk to her any more. What do you think, Miss Landers? -Ignored Daughter

Dear Daughter: Keep talking, honey. Don't let your mom's seeming indifference get you down. I'll bet she really does care but maybe she has a lot on her mind. Just for the heck of it, read her this column and ask if she has any idea who wrote the letter. It may change a few things around your house.

Dear Ann: The results of your survey about having children have created controversy and discussion everywhere. May I add one more word? Most shocking was not that 70 per cent said they would NOT have had children if they could live their lives over again, but that so many people were so honest!

Granted, there are many rewards to raising children, but there are also many heartaches. Although we both love children, my husband and I decided to remain childless after much discussion and years of soul-searching. Why? We were married 14 years ago because we loved each other and wanted to share a life for the course we have chosen. yet you would not believe the harassment we have suffered because of our decision. We have encountered the most vicious hostility from people with children. It's almost as if they are mad at us for escaping the problems they are struggling with.

The major mistake is in assuming that parenthood is for everyone. Judging from your survey, perhaps it's for only 30 per cent. Sign me -One Vote For Realism

Dear Real: Thanks for an up-front, no-holds-barred letter. I liked it.

Dear Ann Landers: Your response to the person who asked for suggestions on how to quit smoking was most ir-

First of all, what makes you an authority on the subject? You've stated repeatedly that you have never smoked. You say "cold turkey" is the best way. You could be wrong.

I happen to be a member of SmokEnders, Inc., and am confident that eventually I will quit smoking with the help of this great program. Their approach is not "cold turkey." it's much more human and virtually painless.

If you haven't tried it, Ann, please don't knock it. - Kicking The Habit

Dear Kicking: SmokEnders does get results, as hundreds of readers have testified since that column appeared. Sorry, I had never heard of

Damage suit here seeking over $540,000

A three-count damage suit seeking a total judgment of $542,000 was filed in Circuit Court Thursday against Norman Bankovich, 2427 West First, and Missouri Pressed Metals, Inc., 1200 Boonville, formerly Alpha Sintered Metals, of which Bankovich is president.

Glen F. Beckett and Co., Independence, filed the suit, which contended Beckett contracted with Missouri Pressed Metals, Inc. on Feb. 1, 1973, to serve as sales representative for the defendant in Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas. Beckett was to receive a five per cent commission on all sales, the suit maintained, and that the switch from Alpha Sintered Metals to Missouri Pressed Metals did not cancel the contract.

On Aug. 5, 1975, Beckett allegedly presented a new contract to the defendant. That contract was the same as the one with Alpha Sintered Metals, he claims, but was never signed by the defendant. Since February of this year the defendant has refused to pay his commissions, Beckett's suit stated.

The first count of the suit seeks a full accounting of Beckett's commissions and the second seeks $24,000 in compensation for other services allegedly provided by Beckett, including locating plant sites and working on bond issues.

The third count seeks $18,000 in actual damages and $500,000 in punitive damages for the defendant's alleged undermining of Beckett's relationship with his clients.

Ford assured adequate supply of vaccine will be available

WASHINGTON (AP) - Health Secretary David Mathews assured President Ford Thursday there will be enough swine flu vaccine available to inoculate every American who wants a shot before the peak of the flu season in January and February.

He said about 110 million to 115 million adults over age 18 can be inoculated by Christmas. The inoculation of persons under age 18 cannot be completed until January because testing on the exact dosage for young persons will not be completed until late September.

Earlier Thursday, Ford responded to reports the program was running behind schedule by saying the program for mass inoculations "damn well better run right."

New charges Funeral services will be held at 10:30 filed against Sedalia man

A Sedalia man was arrested on a second charge Wednesday in connection with the recent break-up of a burglary ring operating in Pettis, Benton and Cooper Counties

Kenneth Eugene Paxton. 28. Maplewood subdivision, was arrested Wednesday morning by the Pettis County sheriff's department on a Benton County warrant charging him with burglary in connection with the June 27 theft of several tools from the MFA Plant Foods Co., located near Highway 65 and Route

Also charged in connection with that theft is Donald Hontz, 29, formerly of 1118 East Ninth, who is currently serving a four-year sentence in the state penitentiary in connection with a recent conviction in Cass County stemming from a copper wire theft incident in Johnson

Paxton was freed on $5,000 bond following his arraignment in Benton County Magistrate Court Wednesday.

Paxton, Thomas Charles Shepard, 28, also of Maplewood subdivision, and Charles Leo Randall, 26, 408 East 13th, were arraigned in Pettis County Magistrate Court Monday morning on charges of stealing more than $50. Larry Wayne Meyer, 34, Smithton, was arraigned on felony charges of receiving stolen property. Hontz was also charged with stealing more than $50.

Those charges came from solving at least 10 burglaries in the three-county area. Specifically, they were charged with taking a large amount of copper wire from the Central Missouri Electrical Cooperative on North Highway 65 on June 29.

Authorities reported none of the items taken in either Benton or Pettis Counties have been recovered. It is not known if charges against them will be filed in Cooper County.

Meyer was released from the Pettis County jail after posting $5,000 bond Monday. Paxton, Randall and Shepard were released after posting $3,500 bond each. Hontz remains in the state penitentiary at Jefferson City.
